

COMPANY

Founded on November 19th, 2008, COOAPINC operates competitively and sustainably in the marketing of fruits and agricultural products from the Vale do São Francisco. Through a cooperative model, we offer irrigating producers privileged market access, better commercial conditions, and specialized technical support.

Our work values family farming and promotes the economic and social development of Nucleus 04 of the Senador Nilo Coelho Project, uniting tradition and innovation in the semi-arid region.

Our acerola cherries stand out for their high vitamin C content and superior quality, the result of efficient management and harvesting at the ideal point of ripeness. All production is 100% traceable, from the field to the consumer, ensuring transparency, food safety, and certified origin.

Cultivated by trained family farmers, the fruits are produced through sustainable practices that preserve the soil and biodiversity of the semi-arid region, adding not only flavor but also socio-environmental value.

Our acerola cherries combine intense flavor and high vitamin C content, thanks to specialized management and harvesting at the exact moment of ripeness. We guarantee complete traceability, from field to table, ensuring origin, quality, and transparency at every stage. Grown by family farmers in a sustainable system, our fruits preserve the soil and biodiversity of the semi-arid region, combining health, authentic flavor, and socio-environmental responsibility.
