

ANDIROBA OIL

COMPANY

Fortparaoil was founded in Pará with the aim of enhancing Amazonian biodiversity and generating a positive impact for local communities. Inspired by the family history of farmers and their commitment to the standing forest, the company extracts vegetable oils and butters from native seeds by cold pressing.

Its main objective is to offer natural, traceable and sustainable ingredients for the cosmetics, food and pharmaceutical markets. Combining technological innovation with traditional wisdom, Fortparaoil is positioning itself as a benchmark in the Amazon bioeconomy.

PRODUCTS

NCM 1515.90.90

Fortparaoil offers 100% pure Amazonian vegetable oils and butters, cold-extracted from native seeds such as andiroba, murumuru, cupuassu and copaiba. Our products come from a sustainable extractive chain in the Amazon, with full traceability guaranteed by RaíZiA technology, ensuring transparency, a positive socio-environmental impact and appreciation of local communities.

With laboratory analyses and certifications (vegan, organic and Halal in progress), we guarantee the quality and safety needed to serve the cosmetics, food and pharmaceutical industries. Our differentials include exclusive blends, on-demand filling and specialized technical support, which add value and versatility to our formulations.

Fortparaoil combines Amazonian tradition with technological innovation and environmental commitment, offering high-performance, reliable ingredients for brands looking for authentic, sustainable products of proven origin.
