FRUIT AND VEGETABLES

COMPANY

The COOAIPRO Cooperative was created in 2016 by rural producers linked to the Isabelense Association of Rural Producers (AIPRO), which for more than 15 years has brought together family farmers from Santa Isabel, Igaratá, Nazaré Paulista and Arujá. The initiative emerged to act as the commercial branch of the association, strengthening family farming, generating income in rural areas, and contributing to food security, with a focus on supplying persimmons and fruits and vegetables to programs such as PNAE and PAA in São Paulo.

The cooperative seeks to diversify and add value to production, expand markets, and guarantee the quality and traceability of its products. Operating in a region with environmental protection areas, it also prioritizes sustainable practices and carries out social actions in the communities of its members.

PRODUCTS

We offer high-quality fruits and vegetables for school meals, contributing daily to the nutrition and well-being of thousands of children and young people across the country. Our production originates from family farming, with complete traceability, sustainable practices, and reduced use of pesticides. The products are grown in environmentally controlled areas (APA) and benefit from efficient logistics, ensuring freshness and quality until their final destination.

Among our main products, we highlight table fruits such as Rama Forte and Guiombo persimmons, white and red guavas, Ponkan tangerines, atemoya, loquats, lychees, and white and red pitayas, among others. In addition to their distinctive flavor, these fruits are rich in important nutrients, such as fiber, vitamins, and antioxidants, which contribute to a balanced and healthy diet. Grown with care and dedication, they bring more quality, diversity, and nutritional value to consumers' tables.
