COMPANY

We are Napillus, a reference in the honey and propolis industry, accredited by the Ministry of Agriculture (SIF No. 1713) for over 20 years. Our production is born on the Campo Verde farm in Antônio Carlos - MG, a historic territory on the Royal Road, and arrives at our industry in Divinópolis, in the heart of Brazil's largest propolis center.

Run by Maycon and Aline, an entrepreneurial couple who combine tradition, science and a vision of the future, Napillus offers products of the highest quality, supported by traceable origin, technical rigor and the natural differentials of Minas Gerais soil - rich in iron and biodiversity.

PRODUCTS

Napillus products stand out for a series of differentials that reinforce their quality and credibility. Our amber glass bottles are resistant and preserve the integrity of the contents, preventing breakage and protecting the natural properties. We use a modern and innovative extraction process, which ensures that the physicochemical characteristics are maintained and guarantees at least 11% dry extract in each formulation.

Origin is another great value: we work with honey from Fazenda Campo Verde, a century-old, family-run property that symbolizes tradition and excellence. Each product receives individual packaging, designed to facilitate display, conservation and practical consumption. In addition, they are all registered with the Ministry of Agriculture, attesting to quality, conformity and safety. Our range consists of practical and functional products, such as the ready-to-eat Immunity Shot. All our products can even be consumed by children from 1 year old. We have a diversified portfolio that includes candies, sprays, compounds, shots and extracts, always bringing new products to the market.

Made with natural ingredients, our products offer proven benefits: they have antimicrobial, anti-inflammatory and antioxidant action, help relieve flu symptoms, contribute to respiratory diseases and promote general well-being. They are the ideal choice for those looking to strengthen their immunity with practicality and confidence on a daily basis.
