NCM 1905.90.90

Sítio Mangará produces banana chips, green banana flour, and dried bananas, offering natural foods that combine convenience, flavor, and health benefits. Their products are made with carefully selected raw materials, meeting the growing demand for healthy and functional options.

Green banana flour is rich in resistant starch, acting as a prebiotic and contributing to gut health, satiety, and glycemic control. Dried bananas are a source of energy, fiber, vitamins, and minerals, while banana chips stand out as a practical and tasty snack option.

What sets us apart is that all the bananas used in manufacturing are produced by the company itself, guaranteeing quality, traceability, and control at every stage of the production process. Furthermore, Sítio Mangará promotes adding value to its agricultural production by reducing waste and encouraging the sustainable use of bananas.

With a production structure prepared to serve different markets, the company ensures consistent supply, standardized processes, and high quality standards in its products.
