COMPANY

Fazenda Giori was founded in 1997 in Cachoeiro de Itapemirim by a family that has been cultivating quality coffee for four generations. Currently, the farm produces high-quality robusta coffee, 100% organic and with Demeter-certified biodynamic production, the world's most rigorous organic and sustainable protocol.

In addition to trading green coffee, it also processes its own coffees, making roasted coffee units available to the B2B market for consumers, coffee shops, retailers, and supermarkets, also operating through its own e-commerce.

PRODUCTS

BioGiori presents a line of special organic and biodynamic Robusta coffees, developed under strict quality criteria and sustainable cultivation practices. Available in roasted versions in 250g and 500g packages, as well as raw green coffee beans, the products are carefully selected and score above 82 points on the SCA scale. With a single origin identity, they express the characteristics of the terroir and the property's commitment to excellent coffee farming, integrating biodiversity, environmental balance, and respect for natural cycles.

The entire property and its production follow the principles of organic and biodynamic agriculture, with certifications from Demeter, USDA/NOP, EU/CE, Orgânico Brasil, and IFOAM equivalence. In addition to specialty coffees for the end consumer, the farm offers selected raw beans for roasters and other commercial partners. The line also includes Keishr Tea, made from dehydrated Robusta coffee husks combined with spices, providing a differentiated alternative for infusion. A portfolio that values coffee versatility, sensory quality, and responsible agricultural production, connecting tradition, innovation, and sustainability.

DETAILS ON PRODUCTION CAPACITY, SEASONALITY AND OTHER CHARACTERISTICS:

The estimated annual production is 360 bags of 60 kg for 2026 and 800 bags of 60 kg for 2027. The roasting capacity is approximately 1 ton per month.
