PRODUCTS

Biodiversity and Brazilian biomes are present throughout our product range. The territorial extension and diversity of terroirs, combined with the expertise of our production, give rise to special fruits and honeys of exceptional quality, two of the products we sell.

Specialty honeys from the Campos de Cima da Serra in southern Brazil NCM 0409.00.00

Monofloral honeys; that is, with the predominance of a specific bloom, of exceptional quality, with Geographical Identity certification, rich in potassium and antioxidants, with a strong mouthfeel to be used pure or in recipes, from the simplest to the most elaborate. There are three types of honey: Melato da Bracatinga, Canudo de Pito and Carne de Vaca.

Frozen Fruit Pulp Cubes - NCM 0811.90.00

Small individual portions (11g per cube) of fruit pulp, totally natural and without added water, to be added to drinks, consumed on their own or used in the preparation of smoothies, desserts, juices and recipes.

It brings precision, since it is possible to know exactly how much will need to be used in the recipes, without waste or exaggeration; as well as allowing for more efficient cost control, since it is possible to know exactly how much will need to be used in a recipe. It is possible to know exactly how much needs to be used in a recipe, allowing the exact calculation of this item in the formation of the selling price of the drink.

We supply a single type of fruit or fruit blends. The pallets are also customized with different flavors of pulp, according to the customer's needs.
