

HONEY AND BEE DERIVATIVES

COMPANY

We are a family business, focused on developing the family beekeeping of small and medium-sized beekeepers, acquiring their products and offering them to the domestic and foreign markets.

We work with bee products in natura, honey, propolis, pollen and apitoxin, and their derivatives.

Today we have partners with sif and MAPA certifications.

We are looking for the implantation (in progress) of an organic production project with the BEEKEEPERS partners, and also a certificate of regional origin identification of honey and propolis to add more value to our products.

PRODUCTS

NCM 0409.00.00

Our products are extracted with all the necessary care to keep everything that is needed in the quality accepted and demanded by the domestic and global market, thus all the production already reaches these markets which are destined for the largest Brazilian exporters, who have our product as one of the best.

In the case of derivatives, they will be produced by a company with more than 25 years in the domestic market, and that already supplies large pharmacy and drugstore chains in the national territory.
