Cashew is a tropical fruit native to Brazil that in addition to the delicious taste, is highly nutritious, rich in vitamin C and high productivity in northeastern Brazil. Our cashew is produced in the Jaguaribana region, interior of Ceará, and it goes through a rigorous process of selection, packaging and transport to bring to your table a tasty, beautiful and healthy fruit.

Cashew is a food rich in fiber and vitamin C, in addition to having phosphorus, magnesium, potassium, zinc, iron, copper and calcium and low calories.

It can be used in sweet and salted preparations and is a powerful ally to improve immunity, protect eyesight, aid in heart health and even diabetes control.

The incomparable taste and great nutritional value make this product, originally from Brazil, a delicacy ready to conquer the world.
