COMPANY

Café Agricultor started in the 1950s in the southern region of Mato Grosso do Sul. But in 1995, Nelson Volce and his partner Neidinea Zanelli, who at the time had a grain grinding machine in Campo Grande, decided to follow in his father Luiz Volce's footsteps – who had been buying raw coffee in the northern region of Paraná in the city of Maringá. Nelson, who had worked with his father, began to dedicate himself to buying processed coffee.

Today it is active in two states: Mato Grosso do Sul and Mato Grosso – always producing the finest coffee.
