

ACAÍ
COFFEE

Engenho was born from the desire to transform a problem that affects all cities in the northern region of Brazil, which in this case is the accumulation of waste generated by the production chain of açai, in an innovative product, sustainable and healthy, minimizing damage to the environment and providing a new source of income. Thus, through a lot of research, we created an aromatic drink, from the açai pits, with characteristics similar to those of traditional coffee

The company has a seal of origin, traceability, and trademark registration with the INPI, and is in the final stages of analyzing its product for seal certification (FSC-C131371 and FSC-C143197).

It is an aromatic drink (or açai coffee, as it became known) made from roasted and ground açai pits, with characteristics similar to traditional coffee, but without caffeine. It retains all the nutrients of açai, such as fiber, minerals, vitamins, and antioxidants, bringing numerous health benefits.

We are pioneers in developing this product, we have a qualified team and all our raw material is quality and certified, we have partnerships with educational institutions, government agencies, but without a doubt the biggest differential is the innovative production process, which maintains the properties of the açai even after roasting.

DETAILS ON PRODUCTION CAPACITY, SEASONALITY AND OTHER CHARACTERISTICS:

Today the Engenho plant works with the capacity to produce up to 4 tons of this drink monthly in powder form, or in 250-gram packages. We have modern machines and a high quality control, which makes us leaders in this segment and a reference in Brazil.
