

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

COMPANY

Braccor was born in fazenda Jandaia, in Nova Aliança/SP, property that has been in the family for more than 60 years. The family, realizing the quality of the lemons produced in the rural property, decided to invest and improve productivity to serve not only the domestic market, but also the international one.

The concern with sustainability, with the saving of natural resources and the family tradition of the farm, have always been the basis for the business to develop and grow. Braccor offers quality and carefully selected products from its planting, always seeking negotiation with transparency and fair price of production.

NCM 0805.50.00

Our tahitis lemons have international quality, are produced sustainably and with minimal use of agricultural defensives. Carefully selected from the moment of harvest, our fruits undergo a thorough analysis to always offer the best for our customers.

We have all the traceability mechanisms required by the House of Defense of Agriculture (issuance of phytosanitary certificates of origin), in addition to having a system with a tracking code of all producers allowing to know the origin of the fruit that is in each of the packages.

Produced in a sustainable way, with the use of natural fertilizers and with the minimum of agricultural defensives, our products are carefully selected from the harvest, passing, at the time of processing and packaging, through a new classification process, all to always offer the best lemons for our customers.
