COMPANY

Amazon Polpas was born in 2005 from the dream of sharing açai with Brazil and the world. Since then, we have been faithful to our purpose: to bring energy and better health to people through the benefits of açai.

Our production structure is formed by qualified professionals and equipment with capacity for more than 220 tons/day.

Amazon Polpas, aware of its position in the food production chain and its importance regarding social, economic and environmental aspects, establishes its commitment to implement a corporate culture aimed at reducing environmental impacts to minimum levels.
