

CANNED PALM HEARTS

COMPANY

The company's history began long before it was founded in 2006. The Ribeiro Ferreira family has always been an active part of the riverside community in the Amazon, producing açai palm hearts.

In 2006 they started their first factory, producing through outsourcing for major brands. In 2018, Jackson Ferreira Ribeiro and Mônica Rosa began modernizing and creating the Salada Amazônia brand with the mission of bringing knowledge of the açai palm heart to the world. Thus was born the Salada Amazônia Group, which is committed to strengthening the work of the riverside communities, creating a positive and sustainable impact on the Amazon rainforest.

Palm heart is a vegetable extracted from the inner part of a palm tree.

The açai palm, well known for its fruit, has tasty palm hearts. Palm heart is a by-product of the fruit, which is why it promotes sustainable development and offers an important alternative source of income for the Ribeirinhos da Floresta.

What sets this palm tree apart is its biological structure, as it is a clump that grows abundantly.

The Ribeirinha community plays a fundamental role in the management of the açai, taking care of nature responsibly and guaranteeing fruit for future generations.

The Organic Seal guarantees that the production process respects environmental and labor development criteria.

DETAILS ON PRODUCTION CAPACITY, SEASONALITY AND OTHER CHARACTERISTICS:

The company is capable of producing 500 boxes a day.

Although the palm heart is harvested between November and March, since it is a canned product, it is possible to plan ahead.

The product has a shelf life of two years.

It does not require refrigeration and should be stored at room temperature. Very practical to use, just open and consume. A ready-to-eat salad.

Once opened, store in the refrigerator for 2 days.
