

FRUIT AND VEGETABLES

COMPANY

Our Italian family, Ettruri, has a long tradition in cultivating lemons and oranges at Sítio São José. Since 1998, we have dedicated ourselves with love and care to the production of high-quality citrus fruits, preserving the freshness of the countryside flavor. Located in Urupês, in the interior of São Paulo, Sítio São José is the base of our operation.

A property that has been passed down from generation to generation, where our family plants Tahiti Lemons and Pera Rio Oranges, using modern and sustainable techniques.

We are dedicated to preserving the authenticity and citrus freshness of the fruits, which is why our farm has complete infrastructure, including a packing house, where the fruits are processed and classified by quality and size, ensuring the delivery of fresh and selected products to our customers.

Tahiti Lemon is one of the most appreciated citrus fruits for its quality, versatility, and excellent productivity. Produced on medium-sized plants, its fruits have a green, smooth, and shiny peel, few seeds, high juice yield, and a distinctive flavor, characteristics that make it ideal for fresh consumption and for the most diverse gastronomic applications, such as beverages, seasonings, sauces, desserts, and recipes from national and international cuisine.

With our own production and Packing House, we rigorously monitor all stages, from cultivation to harvesting, selection, classification, sanitation, and packaging of the fruits. This process ensures greater quality control, traceability, standardization, and preservation of freshness, delivering a product to the market that meets the highest standards of quality and food safety.

Our commitment goes beyond production. We work responsibly, valuing good agricultural practices, respect for the environment, and the continuous pursuit of excellence. The love for the land and agriculture is present in every stage of our work, reflected in fruits carefully produced to offer flavor, freshness, reliability, and the best experience to our customers and partners.
