COMPANY

Iranita 100% Arabica coffee is a product of family farming, produced in sustainable plantations in Purilândia, the 2nd district of Porciúncula, in the northwest of Rio de Janeiro.

The property was born in 1993, after the family moved from the south of Rio de Janeiro to the interior of the state. Sítio Iranita was named after Olympio Matheus Ribeiro's parents, Irany and Nita. Olympio, Ana Regina's father, managed the property at the time.

From 2005 onwards, under the leadership of Ana Regina and her husband Suhail, investment was made in the quality of the coffee, from the time the crops are planted until the coffee is ready for sale.

PRODUCTS

One of the differentials in production is the care taken when harvesting, which is done daily on a cloth and then the grains are washed and separated, pulped and then dried on a stone or suspended patio. The result is a special coffee, full-bodied, smooth and with balanced acidity. Today, the property has an adequate structure for producing excellent quality coffee.

Today, Sítio Iranita has 74 hectares and maintains 50% of its area in native forest, working to conserve the springs and recover the riparian forest.

DETAILS ON PRODUCTION CAPACITY, SEASONALITY AND OTHER CHARACTERISTICS:

Iranita coffee has been planting and replanting its crops for the last three years, with the aim of increasing production in order to serve our customers and also our future exports. The highest area of the property was chosen for planting our plots because it is more suitable for coffee.
