

HONEY AND BEE DERIVATIVES

COMPANY

COMAPI is a cooperative that aggregates 1,000 families of small rural producers, operating in 10 municipalities around Simplicio Mendes, focused on family agriculture with a strong ecological base, comprising 40,000 beehives and 39 Bee Product Extraction Units with high quality standards.

Our farmers are instructed and trained to perform the beekeeping activity in a sustainable way, organically, with the conservation of biodiversity in order to produce a pure honey, free of contaminants and aggressions to the environment. We have 05 certifications that allow us to export to the USA, Canada, Germany, England, France, and Italy.

PRODUCTS

NCM 0409.00.00

The honey we bring to your table helps to strengthen our economy, brings more quality of life to several families from Piauí, and contributes to a better, more sensible and sustainable future.

- Organic Honey in bulk (300kg drums)
- Organic honey in fractions (Pet bottles, glass pots and sachets)

Our apiaries are distributed in areas of native forest, in the Caatinga biome, and as the region does not have large monoculture plantations it is possible to guarantee the organic production of honey with excellent quality, free of pesticides and other substances that could impair quality.

DETAILS ON PRODUCTION CAPACITY, SEASONALITY AND OTHER CHARACTERISTICS:

The installed production capacity is 1,000 t/year, the harvest period occurs between the months of December and April, approximately 5 to 6 months of the year.
